Whether he is teaching or supervising class activities, he always best represents the Raider spirit. His involvement with each class and his commitment to every student have made him a central part of the spirit of Windsor Locks High School.

Because of his continual support, we, the Class of '88, proudly dedicate our yearbook to

Mr. Robert Oliva

Ladies and Gentlemen,
Children of all ages..."

The cry of the barker takes us by pleasant surprise. The Big Show parade, its banner flying high, compels us to take heed. Caught unaware, we quickly abandon the ordinary and familiar. We seek out old friends to join us in the extraordinary spectacle about to begin.

Together we feel the pulse beat of "The Big Show."

Its grandeur at once beckons and captivates us, sending our hearts racing. Enthrilled by the artistry before us, we willingly synchronize our lives and movements to theirs —

they fly, we soar;
they perform, we achieve. Their spectacular feats become our own,
and we are one with the magic of the Big Top.

The fever escalates,
and we are caught in its intensity.
Entertainment and wonder abound.
Circus '88 has hit the town!

"Everything else is supposed to be bad for you, but the circus is good for you. It is the only spectacle I know that, while you watch it, gives the quality of a truly happy dream."

— Hemingway

and the beat continues

Whether one is part of an orchestra or a sports team, a certain degree of harmony must be established to achieve a peak performance. Both the musician and the athlete need to create a balance within his or her group.

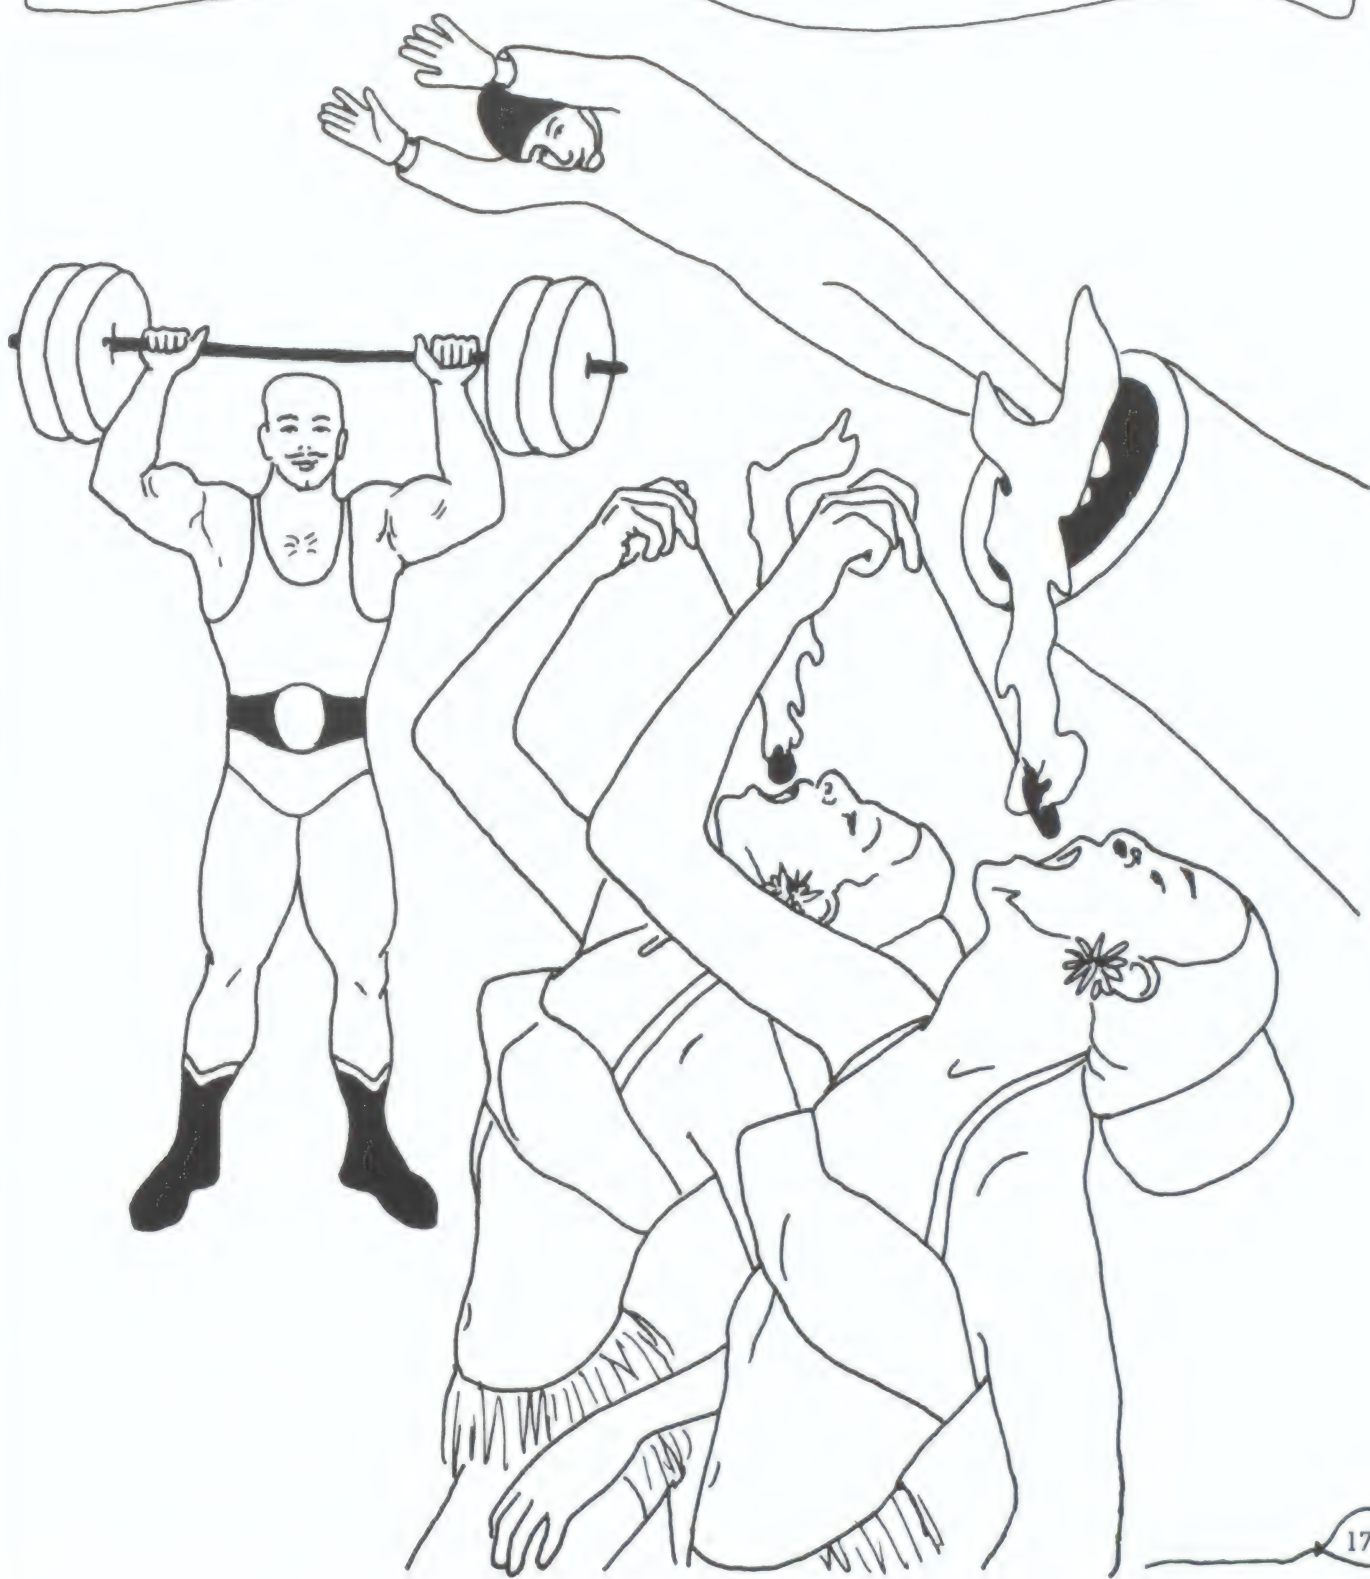

In every aspect of our lives, this element of cooperation is necessary to reach our mutual goals. When a task seems insurmountable or a job unbearable, if we have others working with us we can pool our skills and accomplish what once appeared to be impossible.

Through working together as editors, we have learned the importance of cooperation. We learned to listen to individual views, to understand the reasoning behind them, and finally to reach a compromise satisfying all involved.

As we look back on all we've done together, from being doubles partners for four years to being editors of the Herald, we feel a great sense of pride and accomplishment. Looking ahead, we realize that we will build new relationships, while working together with new friends to reach new goals.

DARING DEEDS

S O U V E N I R S

The Spellbinders of the Class of 1988 hereby leave the following tokens of their performance to circus lovers one and all:

- Terri Ajaski, leave Coach Malone and his speeches to the rest of the girls' swim team.
Bret Annis, leave all the great times I've had to anyone who wants them; and one more year of brownie hounding to JR.
Ellen Armitage, leave my Spanish notes to Kim Harris; my bird costume to Laury Smith; and my globe earrings to Pam Terra Kevin Avery, leave.
Brenda Baskerville, leave with dreams and hopes to become a successful keyboard player and to live a long and happy life with my family and friends.
Joe Belding, leave all my junk to my brother; my memory to everybody that knew me; and my cheat notes to Tim.
Kellie Bernard, leave all the wild partying and trashed houses to Ali; all the little "ankle biters" to Donna; my Arby's apron and "Bobby Bunny" to Jenn.
Dawn Bernardi, leave with special memories of the great times I have had; advice to John, Jay, and Kelly — enjoy high school, it goes by fast; and best of luck to Kev and Scott.
Ron Bonito, leave the freshmen with the thought of three more years; and finally, I leave.
Mark Bouffard, leave geometry to any chump who can take it; and my locker to anyone who can open it.
Lynn Boutwell, leave all the homework I never handed in to Jen; and all the passes to Mrs. O.
Melanie Boutwell, leave memories of my senior year (Patti's junior year) to Patti Dixon.
Janet Bracken, leave the bathrooms to Judy Sandone and her gang; and Mr. A. alone, until he gets my nephew and niece.
John Brooks, leave biology to all the underclassmen who dare to enter it, (getting out is another story — good luck).
Danielle Bryant, leave homework to Jennifer W.; Mr. S. to Michael P.; and juniors with a tough act to follow.
David Bryant, leave Windsor Locks High School juniors to Mr. A.; and another forty years to Ms. Santacroce.
Heather Burns, leave all the "yeh rah rahs" to the future cheerleaders of Windsor Locks High.
Gary Bycenski, leave nothing; I'm taking it all with me.
Gina Cangemi, leave every basketball, softball and soccerball to Ramona to have a "ball" her senior year; the fact that Spalding guarantees the ball to bounce; and memories of my hair to Mickey.
Tony Carniglia, leave WLHS to all the other students, hoping they realize that these four years will be the best years of their lives.
Julie Carterud, leave WLHS with hopes that all my dreams come true.
Doug Castillo, leave the task of being herself to my sister Carrie; and my Eagles' Hotel California tape to whoever can get there.
Elizabeth Clark, leave this school gladly (but not all my friends).
Karrie Connor, leave my great grades and fantastic times at WLHS to Becky Boo, my sister; and all the laughs we've had to hold forever to Debbie and Karen.
Michelle Couturier, leave my big mouth to the whole office staff (especially the secretaries and Mr. A.); my books to all the freshmen; and all of my efforts to Lisa C.
Kevin Cray, leave my dreams and my heart to Tania Patrice Mazinski; my sense of right and wrong and tiger to Anne; and the school with lots of dented lockers.
Susan Culcasi, leave my English cheat notes to Eileen Brangan; and my nickname "Cat" to anyone who thinks they can figure it out.
Richard Day, leave WLHS with my diploma (I hope).
Lora DeForge, leave best wishes to make it through senior year to NW; and my smarts and watching out for Mrs. Fitz. to KD.
Danny DeLuco, leave Mr. A. in peace (but not forever).
James DeMichele, leave Mr. A. some piece of mind; partying to everyone who wants it; and one more DeMichele to rampage through Windsor Locks High School.
Janine Diana, leave my weepie to Allyson Waterman.
Lisa DiCioccio, leave my brother David to try to get out of high school.
Dana Drezek, leave Mr. Widmer's plant project to all unsuspecting Biology I students; my thanks to all the teachers who helped me throughout the last four years; and trying to wake up for school to all who have yet to experience it.
Al Dudas, leave my sense of humor to Joanie; my love (and T.V.) to her also (nothing else is worth leaving).
Michele Dufour, leave my morning strolls through the hallways to Michelle R.; and my seat in work experience.
Bert Duley, leave this school with relief and without looking back.
Steven Fredette, leave my calculator to anyone who can program it; and my Maurice ape to anyone who wants it.
Donna Galetta, leave all the good times to come to Shannon; Mr. R. and Mr. G. to Patti; and the partying to anyone who can handle it.

Rochelle Galetta, leave the Box to Katie Carey; and the care of the swim team to Eileen Brangan and Denise McCauley — good luck!

Renee Garon, leave this school gladly!

Chris Gilbert, leave all the parties and good times to my sister Becky.

Wayne Gilbert, leave Brown's Bathroom to Lenny and Squiggy; and Happy Trails to Mr. B.

Matthew Girard, leave all the headaches and hard work to the classes of '89 to '91 for all your years to come in high school.

Amy Good, leave WLHS with a lot of good memories; my Tandem essays to anyone who wants them; and Mr. Flaherty with the hope of someday finding a better chemistry class than mine.

Al Gordon, leave the best marching band in the whole, entire world to Cindy and Lisa.

Brigitte Gosselin, leave disk 87-5 to Paige Procopio; my mathematical confusion to Michelle Rosseau; and my parking spot to Teri Baldwin.

Alyson Gray, leave SD to Jen K.; the Mobil and JM to Kelly; and BR to anyone who wants him.

Alex Grieco, leave the pleasure of having his house picked for the partying place to someone who has parents living in another state.

Cheryl Hackett, leave the fun of initiations to the juniors; the fun of skipping swim practice to Karen and Denise; and my locker to anyone who can get it to work all year long.

Kevin Hall, leave my Nikes to anyone dumb enough to join cross-country; my bandanas to Mr. O'Brien and the cross-country team; and my condolences to all underclassmen who still have to go to school next year.

Lisa Hall, leave Windsor Locks High School with all my memories; and Mr. Flaherty with the joy of seeing me leave.

Keith Harlan, leave all of my chauvinistic remarks to all of the guys who need to use them; and Coach Sullivan's practices to anyone who likes to run.

Dave Harrison, leave all my high school junk to whoever claims it; and the best of luck in her senior year to a good friend, Trina Quagliaroli.

Loren Jacobson, leave willingly with CP and RL.

Robert Jodoin, leave Windsor Locks High School to my sister Jenifer Ann, (may she succeed in this school and find the happiness that I never found).

Karen Johnson, leave the job of making up the "cover stories" to Neil B. (best of luck in your last year of high school); and advice to all the underclassmen — "enjoy high school, it goes by too fast!"

Karen Julian, leave with many memories that will be cherished for a lifetime; and my best wishes to the underclassmen.

Sharon Julian, leave Bobby Bunny to anyone who thinks they can handle him!!!

Rich Keene, leave my wit to Brian.

Kathy King, leave Tandem essays to any willing night owl; and my mellophone to anyone who knows the fingerings.

Mary King, leave my tardiness to all fellow students.

Jeff Krupa, leave my parking space to some lucky underclassman driver.

Kristine Kulesa, leave my unfinished homework and my empty Snickers wrappers to my cousin, Jenn Lowe.

Tony Labbe, leave my nice curly hair to Mr. Borchetta; and whatever he does not use, I give to Mr. Anastasia.

Eden Lanati, leave my pop quizzes, chem labs, Mrs. Sherman's panels, and Mr. Beaudry's clock watching to all incoming 'shmen.

Andrea LaRussa, leave with memories of a lot of good times; good luck to Trina and Maureen in their senior year; and knowing that Mr. McKeown will have no one to eat all his food!

Robin LaValley, leave willingly with all my friends.

Chris Lavery, leave the locker pictures that I have collected over the years to Joe.

Gina Lee, leave WLHS with the fun memories of yesterday; all my books to Rich (along with luck); and laughter and looking to Michelle!

Tracy Lee, leave all my unfinished homework to Trish (good luck trying to find it); and good luck to Michelle Norman (you are going to need it to survive).

Lori Lefemine, leave good luck to Michelle Norman in her last three years of school.

Joe Leroux, leave a "how to win at chess" book to Kevin; my winged feet to Philip; and luck to those who choose to follow me.

Steve Levick, leave the job of trying to make something out of the percussion section to Mike Gags.

Julie Liss, leave the memory of Liss² to FXX; all my instruments to anyone who dares to play them all; and good luck to all the friends I leave behind.

Darlene Lorette, leave WLHS to take care of my friends LT and JM.

Garrett Ludden, leave the task of getting taped before football games to any player with bad ankles; and the great times to anyone who thinks he can have greater ones.

Vicki Lukon, leave WLHS with lots of memories, both the good and the bad.

Jayne Magish, leave my field hockey talent to Tracy DeMaine; and all my laughs and stupid jokes to Christin Michaud.

Jodie Malick, leave best wishes in high school to my brother Joey; good luck to Shelly and Nick in their senior year; and all the ignorant gossip to all the arrogant fools who thrive on it.

David Marquis, leave my Alg II test grades to anyone who can do worse; and my keys to anyone who can yell and break things as well as I can.

Moreen Martin, leave three more years of impossible English classes to Scott Dubey.

Mike Mascaro, leave good luck with future guys to Kelly and Paige.

Amy McConnell, leave similar feelings about DR with Nicole; the responsibility of improving the class of '90 to my brother Tim; and Mr. McKeown's keys to the select few.

Debbie McDermott, leave knowing that "Spalding guarantees the ball to bounce!"; good luck to Mona and Jen; and my reign as "Madonna" to no one.

Tom McKenna, leave my haircut to Mr. Santamaria and Mr. Oliva.

Gary Michaud, leave quarterbacking the football team to anyone who is able to "read" the triple-option; and my chemistry notebook to Mickey (you'll need it, kid).

Joe Mobiglia, leave my hair to Mr. A.

Michelle Morganson, leave Nicole to get her own ride to school; and Lisa with two more years to go!

Michael Murphy, leave my book to my sister; and all the good times to memory.

Karen Murray, leave happily, hoping all my dreams come true!

David Nadeau, leave my number 70 to anyone good enough to wear it (not a very hard job); my paratrooper boots to anyone dumb enough to wear them; and my shoulder pads to anyone who can stand the stench.

Joseph Nemeth, leave my locker to Linda T.; my geometry book to Mrs. F. for the second time; and memories to all who knew me.

Alitia Normandin, leave all of the problems and hassles to my cousin Karen and to Lisa Carrabbia.

Joe Oliveira, leave the long football practices to my fellow teammates; my football uniform to my brother Jason; (and my brother to strive for higher goals than I have).

Mike Persuitt, leave all the fun times of senior year to all the underclassmen; and my patience to Mr. A. (Lord knows you'll need it!).

Todd Pfaffenbichler, leave my running shoes to the last Pfaff, Greg; and my weekends to JT.

Michael Peijko, leave all my worldly knowledge to my pet rock Herman; and my worldwide seashell collection that is scattered across the beaches of the world to the Smithsonian.

Michele Phelps, leave WLHS with two Phelps down and one to go (good luck, Heather); and Mr. Rinaldi's pre-competition fits to all my friends in band-have fun!

Sue Piscottano, leave the best of luck to Michael.

Michelle Pivin, leave half year; thanks to Mrs. Oliva for helping me; and all my past dreams behind to make room for the new ones.

Jill Poirier, leave "umpha the tumpha wumpha" to the marching band; Saturday morning rehearsals to Bertha; and Danny's stupid questions to Mr. R.

Cari Portuese, leave my beloved posters to Mr. Stine.

Eric Procopio, leave!

Shilpa Radia, leave my chalkholder to Mr. Beaudry; the math team to Willie, Nirad, and Steve (do well!); and most of all the great memories with all my friends.

Karen Riccio, leave this school as fast as I can.

Brian Rucci, leave "a sign among friends" to my brother Chris; "anyone at all" to Matt F., Steve W., and Cindy M.; and my flag to any guy with the guts to use it.

Tony Salvatore, leave my spot on the golf team to my brother (who I hope can fill it).

Jennifer Sampson, leave, thanking all my friends and teachers who helped me out this past year.

Steve Santamaria, leave all the last-minute essays I have done to anyone who thinks he can handle the pressure.

Carrie Schiessl, leave WLHS with many fond memories and new friends; one more year of the Big E and Mr. R. to Brenda and Kylee; and the responsibility of maintaining my title to Paige.

Amy Sevigny, leave the singing of John Jacob in Typing II to Michelle Tardif and Maureen Lennon; and my nickname (Point) to anyone who can live up to it!

Brett Shaw, leave my jeep on the road where it broke down; my bank account (since there is nothing in it) to Matt; and my position on the WL football team to Joe.

Gregory Shovak, leave my Jazz Choir spot to a worthy bass; my "Raider Notes" articles to an up-an-coming writer; and the memory of "Gwegawee" and "I don't know why!" to Stevie.

Darcy Sideravage, leave all my absences to Ken Domina.

Brian Spencer, leave the scary feeling of possibly not graduating to the Class of 1989.

Janice Stokes, leave WLHS to Rich; and my cheat notes under the second desk, first row.

Chris Stoppa, leave all the partying to my sister, hoping that she has as much fun as I did (but try not to get caught).

Robert Sullivan, leave my seat in the Box; my first period health class and a half package of cookies to any students who want them.

Doris Taylor, leave my handprint on Mr. A.'s head.

John Tchaikow, leave knowing that Curti and Meir still have one more year in this place (have a rocking time, "slicksters").

Wayne Terra, leave all my books to the people who will read them; all my cheat notes to the people who will not read them; and everything else I'm taking with me.

Kelly Tharaldson, leave a dime to ET so he can phone home; the Forest for DB to successfully find his own way out; and the spirit of "We beat Hall High" to all swimmers.

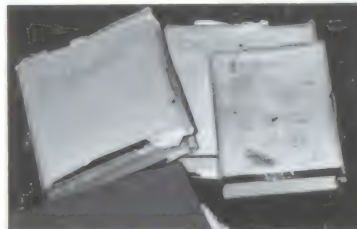

Rhonda Tirio, leave the best of luck to my sister Teresa in her junior and senior years, hoping she has as much fun as I did (but with better grades).

Tim Tralli, leave four years of great memories and times that I will never forget.

Alison Vozzolo, leave the best times of high school to my niece, Cherish Carison; and the good and bad times of high school to anyone who can handle them.

Rob Walker, leave my crutches to anyone stupid enough to get hurt during basketball warm-ups; and my English essays to anyone brave enough to risk doing them the night before they're due.

John Zorick, leave my wheelies to any underclassman who thinks he can beat mine!

"It was a night to remember."

Windsor Locks

These are not happy days for the Windsor Locks High athletic team. When the football team was smacked by the Housatonic, it was a blow against the team's morale. The swim team, on the other hand, is a different story. The swim team, which has been a member of the Connecticut Conference since 1961, has a long and proud history. The team's success is due to the hard work and dedication of the coaches and the athletes. The team's success is also due to the support of the school and the community. The team's success is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the coaches and the athletes. The team's success is also due to the support of the school and the community. The team's success is a testament to the hard work and dedication of the coaches and the athletes.

The school lacks both a junior varsity program and a middle school program to develop new players. New players are scarce and often learn the game for the first time when going out for varsity.

The key goaltending position will be filled by promising junior Tammy Ayotte, who is joining the team for her first season. Newcomers Deanna Johns and Michelle Coviell will be reserve players, as well as

The boys' team has now lost three straight games when the other teams have won. The boys' soccer team is 0-3 in all sports are included. Locks is the best player and field hockey team. As the season or the fall, those who return our best players repeated off this week's play. It is a little looking for a percentage. We've been looking for a state tournament all yet. Maybe we since then a little. The Cary Byington has been a star pitcher for the boys' baseball team. Willie Watson is both a running back and a quarterback at the State Championships. A shot-putter who is a star in the States. This year may also be a good one for the girls' basketball team.

Locks' Field Hockey Strives To Overcome Obstacles

Windsor Locks High is a tough place to run a field hockey team.

The school lacks both a junior varsity program and a middle school program to develop new players. New players are scarce and often learn the game for the first time when going out for varsity.

These are huge obstacles, which make it much easier to understand last year's 3-1 record.

To make matters worse, the school lacks a dedicated field hockey coach. The current coach, Mr. [Name], is a [Name] teacher who has coached the team for the last two years.

But the school is not alone in its struggles. Many other schools in the state are facing similar problems. The lack of a dedicated field hockey coach is a common problem across the state. This is due to a variety of factors, including a lack of funding and a lack of interest in the sport.

Despite these challenges, the school is not giving up. The coach is working hard to develop the team and to attract new players. The school is also working to raise funds to hire a dedicated coach. The school is confident that it will be able to overcome these challenges and become a successful field hockey team.

"I have 18 study halls — my pages will be done!"

"C'mon, Bri, we have a lot to do."

"All right, Andrea, I'm workin' as fast as I can!"

"I can handle it!"

"Okay, Kel, what's next?"

"We're not laughing at you, we're laughing with you!"

"You want me to call Mike again?!"

"One if by train, two if by horse."

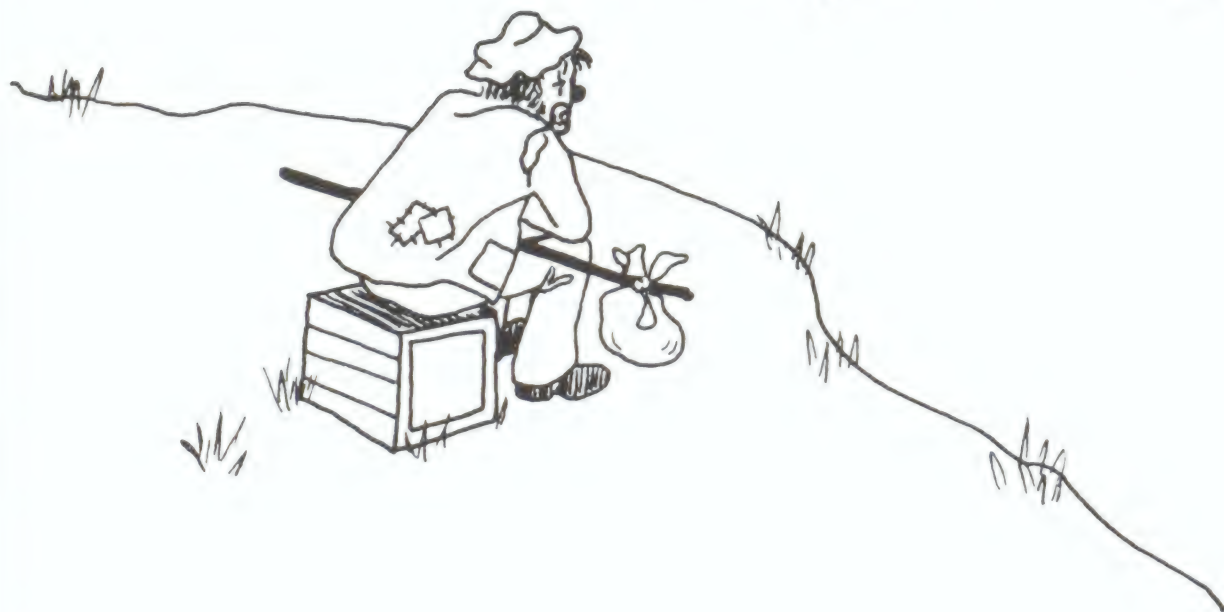

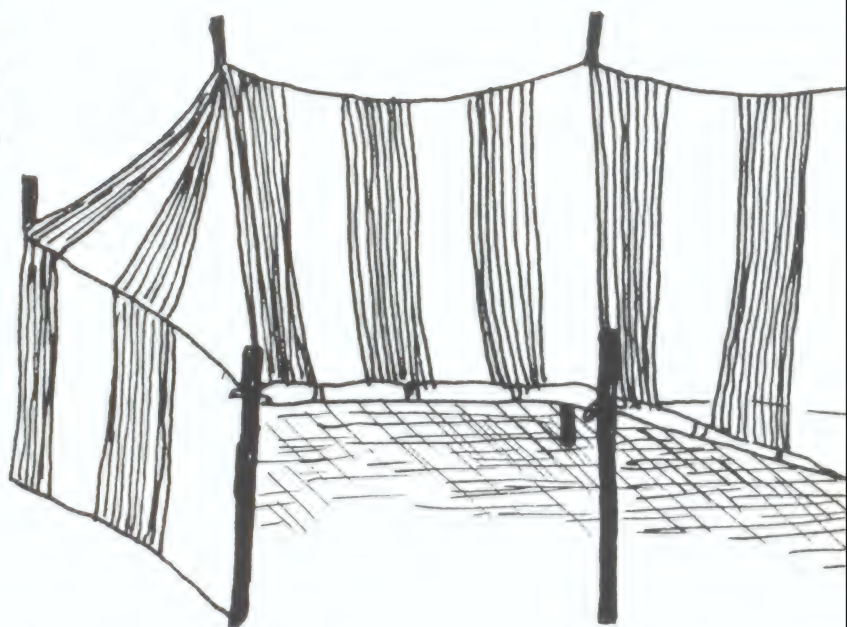

"Hi, kids!"

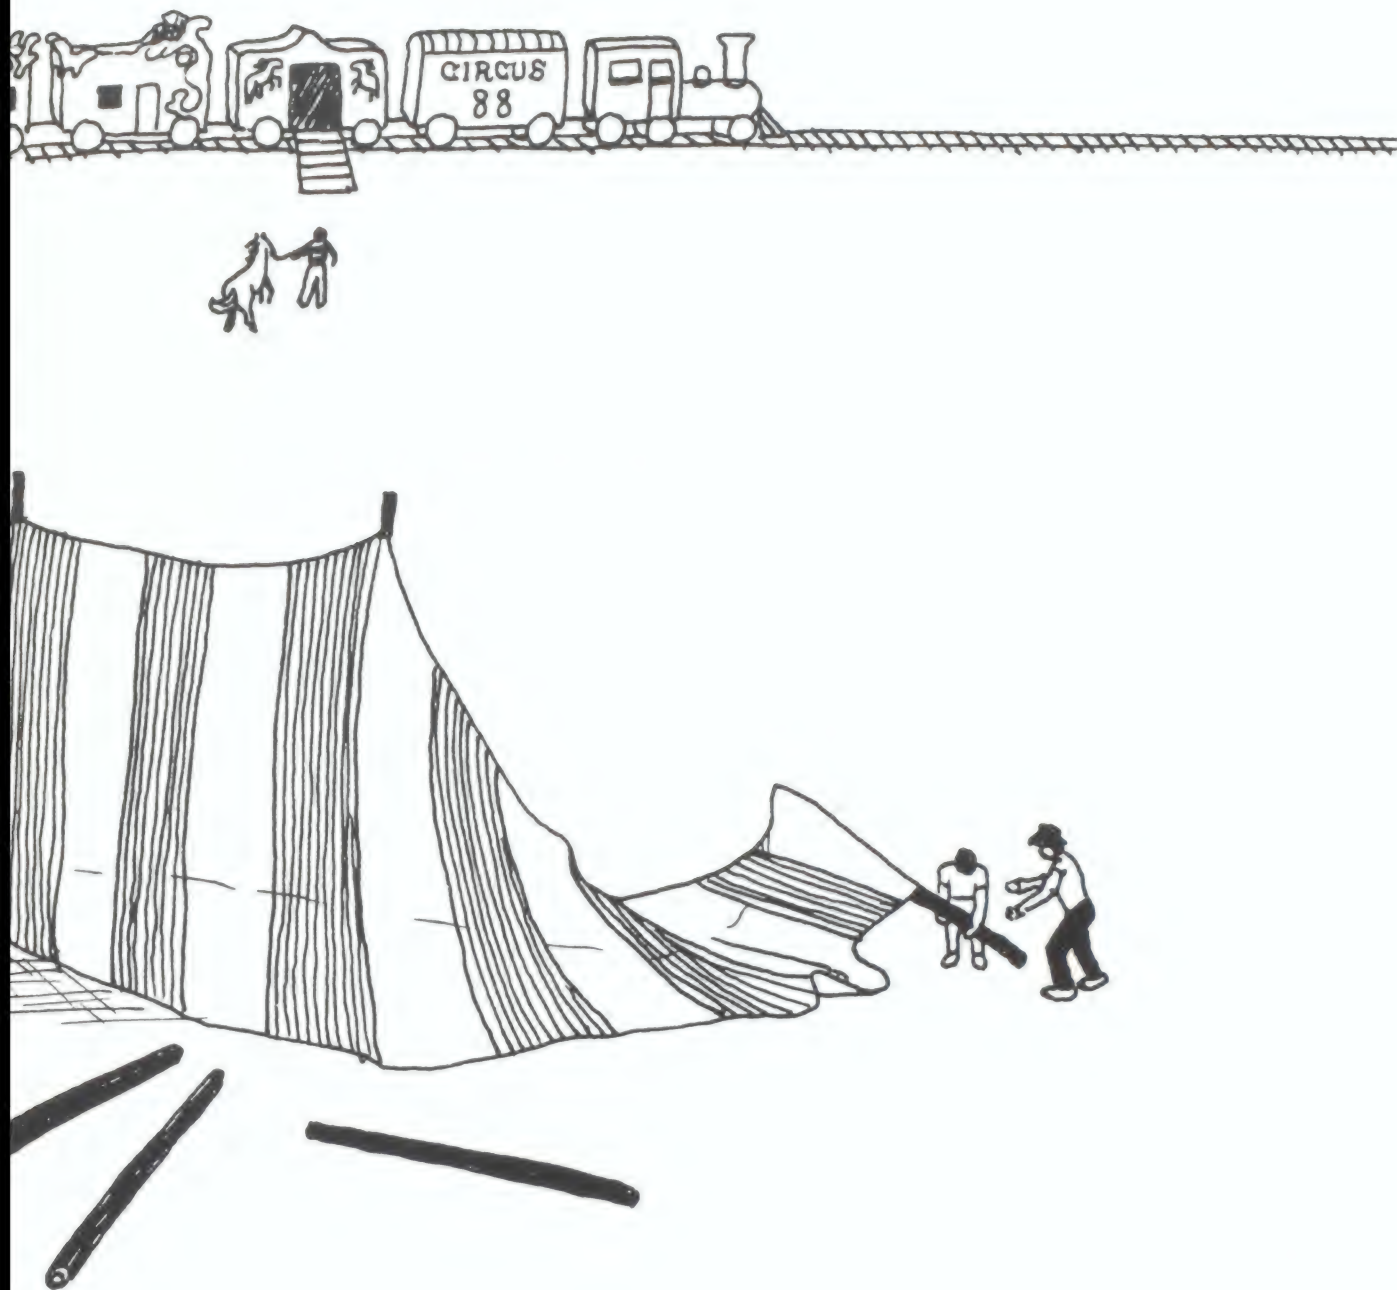

"So I took 50 pictures of a weepie — big deal!"

"But girls just want to have fun."

We are now called upon to assemble all that we have learned, and although we must follow our separate "routes," we will always feel the pulse of Circus '88 binding us together.

What is a Bargain?

Beware of advertisements which claim huge savings on diamonds. If a diamond is sold at a "bargain" price it is usually because it is an inferior gem. Our membership in the American Gem Society is your assurance of honest value. It costs no more and often less to buy your diamond from a reputable firm that cares about you.
